ITALIAN ULTIMATUM TO DENIED IN ROME AND DEVELOPMENTS BEING REVIEWED IN LONDON

Britain Standing Firmly By Her Obligations

LONDON, AUG. 23 (BRITISH WIRELESS).—DEVELOPMENTS IN GREECE, CONSEQUENT UPON THE INCREASINGLY THREATENING ATTITUDE OF ITALY, ARE BEING CLOSELY STUDIED IN LONDON.

The British Minister in Athens, had a long conference with the Greek Prime Minister yesterday but no report of this conversation has yet been received in official quarters in London.

Early this morning, according to a Press message from Athens, the King with General Metaxas, was in consultation with the defence chiefs.

There is no indication, however, that the position has undergone any fundamental change and extravagant Press reports should be treated with the greatest reserve.

GREECE ATHENS: CLOSELY

THIS SCRAP WILL STAY IN U.S.

This pile of scrap metal, symbolic of a vital source of war materials, will stay in the United States for use in building up the Nation's defences instead of being shipped abroad—especially to Japan—to be used for aggression. This curb on the traffic is provided in the extension of the export licence system to oil, scrap iron and scrap metal to conserve national resources.

PRESENT LULL IS ONLY DUE TO UNCERTAINTY IN HITLER'S MIND: HOW CAN HE MAKE GOOD HIS CLAIM OF ABILITY TO BEAT BRITAIN?

Germany Will Be Hit Harder And Harder—Wickham Steed

"HERR HITLER'S CHIEF WORRY IS THAT HE CANNOT SWITCH OFF FROM THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN. He may be waiting for some opportunity to further his plans, but while he waits, the British forces and Britain's air strength is getting stronger and stronger and Germany will be hit harder and harder," said MR. WICKHAM STEED, the well-known commentator on World Affairs in his weekly broadcast from Daventry last night.

Mr. Steed went on to say that already Herr Hitler had sent thousands of Germans from the principal cities in Germany, which were being bombed daily by the Royal Air Force, to Paris in order that they might find safety there from the British raids.

"How can Herr Hitler hope to make good his claim to be able to defeat Britain and create his new order in Europe when he sees his military centres being bombed and destroyed daily before his eyes?" Mr. Steed asked.

"I am prepared to predict, therefore, that the present lull is only a temporary respite."

SMALLER SCALE
In opening his talk, Mr. Steed said that the fighting this week had been on a much smaller scale than during last week. There had been a kind of lull since last Sunday, but they had all been warned that that full might cease at any moment.

The prompt concession by Rumania to the Bulgarian claim on southern Dobruja is regarded as offering a valuable contribution towards the maintenance of peace in the Balkans.

THERE IS NO CONFIRMATION IN OFFICIAL QUARTERS HERE OF THE REPORT THAT ITALY HAS GIVEN A 24-HOUR ULTIMATUM TO GREECE CALLING UPON GREECE TO RENOUNCE THE BRITISH GUARANTEE GIVEN IN APRIL, 1939, AND EMPHATIC DENIALS THAT ANY SUCH ULTIMATUM HAD BEEN SENT OR RECEIVED HAVE BEEN MADE IN BOTH ROME AND ATHENS.

Another report, which is categorically denied in London, is that the British forces have occupied the islands of Crete and Corfu. This report, no doubt, has its origin in Italian propaganda.

Since the outbreak of war, Greece has maintained strict neutrality and impartiality against all.

East Surreys Embark For South

U.S. MARINE BAND HEADS MARCH

SHANGHAI, AUG. 23 (Reuter).—Cheering throngs lined the route along Bubbling Well and Nanking Roads this morning as 500 members of the East Surrey Regiment, headed by the regimental band of the U. S. Marine Corps, marched into Hongkew (Japanese-occupied sector in the International Settlement) where they boarded transport vessels, which are scheduled to leave tomorrow for the south.

This is the second contingent of British troops to leave Shanghai.

It was learned this morning that a further departure of British troops will take place intermittently during the next few days and by Monday it is expected that all British military units in the city will be completely withdrawn.

Five vessels, it was further learned, will be engaged in the task of transporting the British troops from Shanghai to Hongkong and Singapore.

NEW P-38 FIGHTER LAUNCHED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23 (Reuter).—Major Gen. Arnold, Chief of the Army Air Command, today launched the first new fighter known as P-38.

It is claimed that the fighter has a speed of 500 miles per hour, a cruising range of 1,100 miles, and is armed with a quick-firing cannon and five machine-guns.

The Lockheed Corporation stated that Britain had ordered 500 of these machines at a cost of £15,000,000.

Clipper Mails Routed Via Bermuda

NO OBJECTION TO CENSORSHIP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (Reuter).—The British blockade against German and Italian business transactions with the United States has apparently been materially strengthened because United States mails by clipper are again being routed through Bermuda.

It is stated authoritatively that the U.S. Government has no objections to Bermuda censorship.

It is also considered that the censorship will now make it more difficult for German and Italian news pictures and propaganda to reach United States.

Officials would not say whether the United States Government had influenced pan-American Airways to resume calling at Bermuda, but the new move is regarded in informed quarters as a further measure of United States co-operation with Britain.

Financial Support For De Gaulle

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (Reuter).—An organisation is being formed here to provide moral and financial support for General De Gaulle will be called the "Freedom Group of Frenchmen of America" and the head of the organisation is M. Paul Seguin, who served with the French Army in 1914-1918 and is now an American citizen.

GERMAN LOSSES OF TRAINED AIRMEN EXCEED 2,000

LONDON, AUG. (BWS).—THE NUMBER OF TRAINED AIRMEN LOST TO GERMANY SINCE AUG. 8, mentioned by Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary for Air, on Aug. 12 as being "substantially more than 1,500," was itself increased before the Air Minister had finished his speech.

A careful investigation of the official figures shows German losses from Aug. 8 to today exceed 2,000 on the conservative estimate.

Taking a bomber crew to average four, the enemy has lost 1,638 trained airmen, to which figure must be added 180 single-seater fighter pilots and, at least, 300 more from the 139 Messerschmitts 110s, or the Jaguars, which carry two or three men.

This gives a total of 2,118 without counting any crews from aeroplanes so badly damaged that it is probable that they were not able to reach their bases.

When it is remembered the number of Nazi planes entered in official lists as probably destroyed and badly damaged on Aug. 12 and 13 exceed the number known destroyed it will be realised that the claim that the Nazis have lost 2,000 men in 14 days is certainly distinguished by moderation.

The Air Ministry states that in the course of yesterday's air activities, nine enemy machines were destroyed in all, seven being shot down by our fighters and two by A.A. guns. Four of our fighters were lost, but two of the pilots are safe.

An enemy bomber was shot down in the early hours of this morning by Lewis gun fire from the ground.

An Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security communique says that during last night there was some activity over this country by enemy aircraft, operating singly or in small numbers.

Bombs were dropped in a number of areas in England, South Wales and a town in North-East Scotland.

CINEMA DAMAGED
Some bombs were dropped in districts on the outskirts of London and damage was done to houses and a cinema. There was a small number of casualties.

EFFECT OF AMERICAN NEUTRALITY ACT ON H.K. IMPORT TRADE

Special to the Hongkong Daily Press

An important aspect of the American Neutrality Act in its bearing on Hongkong has made itself manifest since the outbreak of war in Europe and particularly in recent months with the increase of tension in the Far East. The Act stipulates that goods exported from America to a belligerent nation must be paid for before they leave the United States.

This means that importers of American goods, who formerly enjoyed long term credit, must now pay cash for all orders before the goods leave the States.

More Raids On Chungking

BOMBS FALL NEAR A.P.C. TANKS

CHUNGKING, Aug. 23 (Reuter).—Japanese aircraft in three waves raided Chungking at noon today.

They started two fires, one of which was particularly spectacular throwing up a dense column of smoke. The raiders were greeted with heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Some bombs fell on the south bank of the Yangtze, opposite the city. Two places were subjected to bombing, one of which was located slightly below the Asiatic Petroleum installation.

In many cases this payment is covered by a Letter of Credit from an accredited bank, but before a bank issues such a Letter of Credit it requires a payment of at least 25 per cent. of the amount involved.

The local retailer who runs his business mainly on a credit basis thus finds himself unable to furnish the necessary cash capital required and, therefore, the amount of his orders are greatly reduced and the entire trade of the Colony affected thereby.

To fully appreciate the significance of the effect of this on local trade it must be remembered that the Colony's total imports from America exceed H.K.$50,000,000 per annum.

SEVERAL HANDICAPS

Discussing the question with several import houses in the Colony yesterday, a representative of the Hongkong Daily Press learned that apart from the matter

REPORTS OF CHINESE TROOPS ALONG FRENCH INDO-CHINA BORDER ARE RIDICULED

CHUNGKING, Aug. 23 (Central).—Recent reports of the United Press, Transocean and Domei from Vichy regarding Chinese troop concentrations along the French Indo-China border were merely Japanese propaganda purported to justify future Japanese actions against the French Colony, commented a competent diplomatic observer in an interview today.

For some time, he said, Japan has cast a covetous eye on the rich French possessions. Taking advantage of France's capitulation, she has brought pressure to bear upon the French Indo-China authorities to accept a set of unscrupulous demands. In order to justify her demands, it is natural for her to make some pretext; hence the fabricated reports.

Recalling that the National Government has already categorically denied those reports, he stated that further reports of a similar nature will be just as misleading.

Early Morning Warnings

NAZI PLANES OVER LONDON AREA

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Reuter).—Air raid warnings were sounded in London early this morning, when enemy planes flew overhead in the London area. Gunfire was heard, flashes were seen in the sky and searchlights were busy.

Three towns in the south-west had air raids last night and 12 bombs were dropped near one, but only slight damage was caused.

A solitary raider dropped incendiary bombs in a south-east district, one fell into a house in the middle of the town, but was quickly extinguished, while others dropped in the fields.

TERRIFIC BARRAGE

Gunfire and bombs were heard over a wide area in one part of London, and an anti-aircraft barrage, described as terrific, drove the Nazi planes.

Bombs dropped in another part of London caught fire to a Scout's hut at the edge of a wood, but as far as it is known, there were no serious casualties.

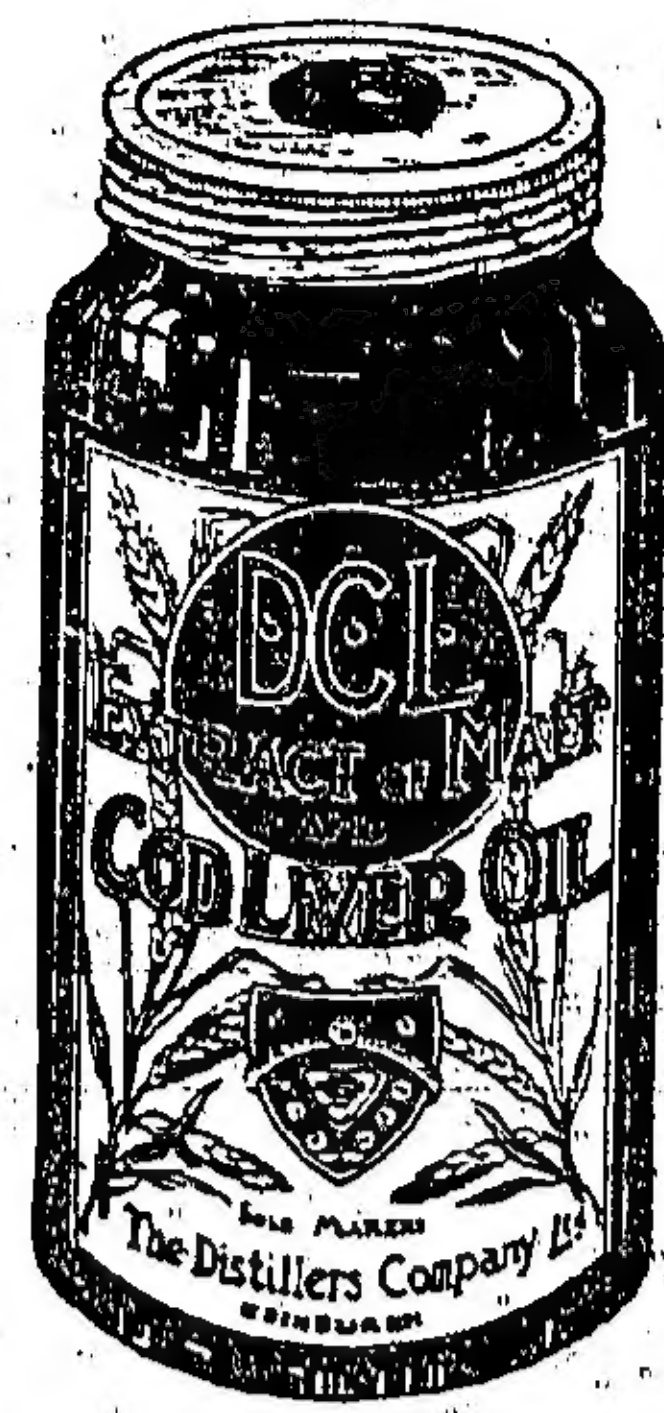

In two towns north-east of England damage was done to property and in two towns in South-East England only slight damage was caused.

Some damage and casualties were caused in other areas.

A number of fatal injuries have been reported.

ESPIONAGE AGENT

As timely and potent a warning as has ever been given via the medium of motion pictures is contained in "Espionage Agent," the Warner Bros. picture starring Joel McCrea and Brenda Marshall, which opens at Majestic Theatre tomorrow.

The plot of the picture is, of course, fictional, however authentic the background and the conditions it depicts. It tells, in the main, the tale of a girl who has been a tool of a spy ring and of a young "career man" in the United States diplomatic service who marries this girl.

Forced to resign from the service when the past history of his

STRONG JAPANESE PUSH IN SOUTH REPULSED

Chinese Guerillas Attack Gendarmerie Headquarters

SHIUHING, August 23 (Central)—After the unsuccessful operations along the Toishan coast, the Japanese have turned their attention to the coast area between Chungshan and Sunwui. They have landed at Neiwannan and invaded Tulum Isle and Siulum Isle. Toumum in the Chungshan district is still in Chinese hands. Four Japanese warships sent to block river traffic in the Chungshan-Sunwui area have been repulsed by the Chinese.

According to a belated report, Chinese guerillas filtered into Fatshan, 10 miles southwest of Canton, on August 16 and made an attack at the Japanese gendarmerie headquarters. Scores of Japanese gendarmes and puppet troops were killed by Chinese hand grenades. The guerillas withdrew safely after the attack.

Fighting again broke out at Yilungshu in the Tsengshing sector on August 20. About 1,000 Japanese supported by seven field guns attacked the Chinese from two directions in the morning. Wave after wave of attack was repulsed by the Chinese. Two Japanese aeroplanes arrived in the afternoon and rained bombs on the Chinese defences but the Chinese did not yield an inch of ground. After further fighting, the Japanese were driven back retreating toward Tsengshing and Fukwuh.

JAPANESE ROUTED
LOYANG, Aug. 23 (Central)—Sporadic fighting has been raging in a number of places in Shansi province.

On August 19, a combined Japanese infantry, cavalry and artillery unit launched a drive west of Fencheng, northeast of Sinkiang, with the support of planes.

While engaging the enemy on the main front part of the Chinese defenders made a detour to attack their flank. The Japanese were put to rout.

COMMUNICATIONS DISRUPTED
Chinese units have staged successful raids on the Japanese near Linfen, Hsiabien, Changlienchien and other points in the last few days. In the attack on Changlienchien, they showered hand grenades on the enemy, taking a heavy toll of lives.

Tsincheng in southeast Shansi is under heavy Chinese pressure. Communications between the town and points west are still disrupted.

Thailand Situation Very Calm

U.S. DIPLOMAT INTERVIEWED

THAT THE THAI GOVERNMENT was primarily interested in internal development, and that it desired amicable relationships with all countries with which it was in contact, was the opinion expressed by Mr. F. R. Dolbear, American diplomat, who has been Adviser to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Bangkok for the last five years, when I saw him at Raffles Hotel, writes a staff reporter of the Malaya Tribune.

Mr. Dolbear said that the Americans had been represented in the Foreign Ministry of Bangkok for the last 30 years.

CALM AND STEADY
"The situation in Thailand," he said, "is very calm and very steady."

"Their new treaties with Great Britain and other countries have somewhat solidified their position as far as they were concerned, and they are on the friendliest of terms with all countries."

Regarding the recent developments in Indo-China, Mr. Dolbear said that Thailand was naturally interested, but there had been no "interceptions" of any kind as far as he knew.

AS BIG AS FRANCE
A country as big as France, with a population of 14,000,000 people, Thailand, was primarily interested in internal development and desired amicable relationships with all countries, so that it could utilise all its energies towards internal development, he said.

Asked whether there was any truth in current rumours that Japan's influence swayed the Thai Government, Mr. Dolbear emphasised that the Thai Government made its own policy along lines most beneficial to Thailand.

Ambassador Going To Chungking

CHUNGKING, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—Chinese sources here confirm the report that the British Ambassador, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, is shortly arriving at Chungking.

The Ambassador, according to the Chinese reports, is leaving Shanghai on August 28, arriving at Hongkong on August 28. He will leave Hongkong by air either on August 31 or September 1 for Chungking.

RESIDENCE DESTROYED
As the result of the destruction of his residence on a hill in the western suburbs of Chungking during a Japanese raid on July 4 it is not yet decided where Sir Archibald will stay after his arrival here.

Chinese reports also state that the French Ambassador, M. Henri Cosme is expected to leave Shanghai for Chungking early in September.

KUNG REPORT DENIED

Resting From Attack Of Malaria

CHUNGKING, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—A report that Dr. H. H. Kung, Minister of Finance, is leaving shortly for Moum Omei is denied here.

According to an official statement, Dr. Kung is suffering from ill-health from overwork and also recently from an attack of malaria. After receiving injections and medical treatment, his health is improving.

"But upon the advice of his physicians, he is still resting, only looking over important documents."

"His complete recovery is expected shortly, after which he will resume his duties."

General Chiang Kai-shek has personally contributed a sum of CN$50,000 for the relief of refugees in Chinghai, East Chekiang, who have been affected by the recent hostilities in that area. In response to public appeals, General Huang Shaoihung, chairman of the Chekiang Provincial Government, has also ordered the provincial authorities to defray another CN$50,000 for the same purpose.

THAILANDERS DEMAND LAND FROM INDO-CHINA

THAILAND ASSEMBLY REPRESENTATIVES of the north-eastern provinces have received requests from their constituencies to urge Government, in view of the appropriateness of the present time, to claim back from France the former Thailand territories now forming part of Indo-China, states the Bangkok correspondent of the Malaya Tribune.

The Assembly representatives concerned have referred the requests to Government.

NEW FACTS
The Government of Thailand recently made new pacts of non-aggression with France, Britain and Japan, and is therefore pledged not to seek any modification of frontiers without full consultation and agreement with the Government of France.

In 1925, the treaty between France and Siam (now Thailand) was denounced and a new treaty was signed in 1938.

In all these treaty changes the separate Convention governing the relations of Siam (Thailand) and Indo-China, and recognising the present frontier as inviolate, has remained substantially the same.

ATLANTIC BASES FOR U.S.

Snags In Transfer Of Destroyers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—President Roosevelt yesterday conferred with Mr. Henry L. Stimson (Secretary for War), Col. Frank Knox (Secretary for the Navy), Mr. Sumner Welles (Acting Secretary of State) and Mr. Robert H. Jackson (Attorney General) on the lease of Atlantic bases from Britain.

Difficulties in connexion with the transfer of over-age destroyers to Britain were not completely resolved.

The President is reported to favour the transfer but the attitude of Congress presents an obstacle.

It is desired to avoid protracted legislation but no method of avoiding the necessity for Congressional sanction has yet been found.

Germany On Tender-Hooks

LONDON, August 23 (Reuter)—The R.A.F.'s nightly raids on Germany have caused air raid precautions there to be tightened up. Special police pay surprise visits to houses and offices to test the efficiency of the black-out and air raid precautions.

Air raid wardens are being given refresher courses, while propaganda is being poured out via the press, radio and the "movies."

PROPAGANDA FILMS
Propaganda films show people how to deal with incendiary bombs.

The German radio warns people that for military reasons, air raid warning sirens will be sounded for one minute only, instead of two.

Air raid wardens are urged to see that no one sleeps through the warning!

TOTAL BRITISH CASUALTIES

LONDON, August 23 (Reuter)—The Cairo newspaper Al Balagh, commenting on Britain's total casualties of 92,000, says this is very small when we consider that on this war depends the fate of the whole world.

After a year Britain is still intact, or rather stronger and more able to continue the war, and is much more hopeful now of emerging victorious.

It has been said of Britain, and it is true, that she often loses battles but always wins the war. If Mr. Churchill is optimistic he has every right to be.

MADRID, August 23 (Reuter)—Senor Sanchez Mazas, one of the two Ministers without Portfolio, has been relieved of his post. Senor Mazas was a prominent member of the Falangist Party.

THAILANDERS DEMAND Burma Road

DEPUTATION SEES MR. BUTLER

LONDON, August 23 (Reuter)—An immediate and unconditional re-opening of the Burma Road was demanded by a deputation of the China Campaign Committee headed by Miss Margery Fry, who saw Mr. R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, on Monday.

The deputation dwelt on the human suffering that would result from the closing and gave as an instance the slackening of anti-epidemic work and the shortage of medical supplies in vast areas of China.

NO DECISION REACHED
Mr. Butler declared that passage of medical supplies would be permitted while the question of allowing passage of petrol for the transport of medical supplies through the interior of China was taken up with the Japanese Government. However, no decision had yet been reached.

Mr. Butler took note of the deputation's views but added that no further indication of the development of Government policy could be given at present.

Nothing Left To Chance When Raid Ordered: Bomber Crews' Training

LONDON, AUG. 23 (R.W.S.)—ACCORDING TO AN ACCOUNT PUBLISHED IN THE SWISS NEWSPAPER, BASEL NACHRICHTEN, an eye-witness of the R. A. F. raid on German aluminium works at Rheinfelden, was most impressed with the "accuracy, daring and cunning of the British pilots who flew so low that at times one felt the machines would strip the roofs off houses."

The efficiency in carrying out these raids, which so impressed this neutral observer, is the result of long and careful training of bomber crews and the most detailed planning of every raid. As far as possible, nothing is left to chance when a raid is ordered.

Detailed knowledge of the target is a duty of the station intelligence officers who have spent hours over photographs and reports of reconnaissance flights and of previous raids, until they are as familiar with the layout of the objective as if they had built the place themselves.

INTIMATELY CONCERNED
The next step is to convey this information to every member of every crew taking part. Naturally, navigators are the most intimately concerned, and at an informal conference held before the raid, each navigator is given the most accurate chart of the target and immediately the surrounding country. Then the target is described by the intelligence officers with the aid of photographs and plans projected on the screen.

Every aspect of the matter is fully discussed and the plan of attack formulated. As each bomber becomes an independent unit as soon as the aerodrome is left, the crews then work out their own plans.

ZERO HOUR
As the zero hour approaches, the crews assemble ready for the journey and, dead on time, the first bomber leaves the ground. In the operations room, the intelligence officers await their wireless messages reporting the course of the raid and the signal they most dread is that intimating that one of the aircraft has been hit.

When this happens, the aeroplane concerned tries to keep in continual touch, but sometimes there is silence and the logbook reads "last heard of such and such a time."

Eventually the final signal is received that the last bomber has dropped its load on the target area. Up to the time engines of the returning raiders are heard and as each comes in, reports are made.

CROSS-EXAMINED
Pilots and navigators are carefully cross-examined on their stories and each statement is tested against the other. This is done by men well accustomed to the weight of evidence, many of them being barristers.

From these reports, a single accurate picture is built up and the result of the whole thing is reflected in the success of British raids.

"WE CANNOT AND WILL NOT RELAX"

MR. MORRISON ON ARMAMENTS DRIVE

LONDON, August 23 (Reuter)—How the British industry is beating the clock in its great armaments efforts was related by Mr. Herbert Morrison, Minister of Supply, in a broadcast last night.

He was still anxious not to suggest that we have caught up with the enemy but cited a list of amazingly rapid transformations of factories from peacetime to wartime production since last May.

He declared: "We have now an arms industry greater in its output and greater in its future productive capacity than anyone would dare think possible three months ago."

WORLDWIDE TASKS
"Reckoned as a three-month effort and measured by our immediate needs it is indeed an achievement."

"But when we think of our worldwide tasks of defence and offence and of the two or three years of campaigning in many parts of the globe that may well be before us, we see our work hitherto as the beginning of beginning."

"We cannot and will not relax," he concluded.

Categorical Denial In London

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—With regard to the reports that have appeared stating that the British Government is seeking a military alliance with the United States and that the present talks between Canada and the United States are the opening wedge for a full military accord, it is stated in authoritative quarters here, says the Reuter's Diplomatic correspondent, that the story is absolutely without foundation and can be categorically denied.

New India Appointments Announced

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—The India Office announces that Sir Francis Wylie, Governor of the Central Provinces and Berar, has accepted the appointment of Political Adviser, rendered vacant by the selection of Sir Bertrand Glancy to be Governor of Punjab on the expiry of the term of Sir Henry Gairs.

Mr. Henry Joseph Twynam, Acting Governor of the Central Provinces and Berar, has been appointed Governor of the Central Provinces and Berar in succession to Sir Francis Wylie and Mr. Archibald Henry De Burgh Hamilton, a Judge of the Oudh High Court, has been appointed Judge of the High Court of Allahabad on the retirement in October next of Sir Edward Bennet.

reads "last heard of such and such a time."

AIR ACTIVITY IN AFRICA

DIRECT HITS ON OIL TANKS

CAIRO, August 23 (Reuter)—A communique states that, during the night of August 19/20 R.A.F. bombers raided Tobruk harbour. Naval oil tanks on the foreshore were the main targets and received direct hits. Other bombers attacked with success the landing grounds at Tobruk and El Adem.

Three Italian bombers were seriously damaged during a raid at Sidi El Tmimi on Thursday. One was set on fire and exploded. The second was burned out.

The third had its wings blown off and there were also a number of near misses which probably caused damage to other aircraft. All our bombers returned safely.

CAPRONI DAMAGED
Our aircraft also raided Bomba on the Libyan coast. A direct hit was registered on a seaplane jetty.

Aircraft of the Southern Rhodesian and South African Squadrons carried out numerous offensive reconnaissances over Italian Somaliland.

At Mogadiscio direct hits were registered on a jetty and one hangar while at Merka one Caproni aircraft on the ground was damaged.

Direct hits were also registered on buildings.

WIRELESS STATION BOMBED

NAIROBI, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—The communique issued yesterday states: "Our ground patrols were again active in the northern frontier district and gathered very valuable information."

"The South African Air Force raided Mogadiscio. Direct hits were obtained on the transport and administrative buildings. The wireless station and hangars were set on fire."

"All our aircraft returned safely."

Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios, for defendant, pleaded guilty to the two summonses on his behalf.

The car, he said, was for sale and was in a garage and it was taken out by a prospective buyer. The reason why defendant did not license his car was because he intended selling the car and to buy another one and, in fact, had already bought another car.

GAOLED“VERY CLEVER AND CRUEL FRAUD”

“I am innocent, my Lord.” Thus stated Guilherme D’Araujo Guimaraes, alias William Williams, alias Ah Kam, at the conclusion of his trial at the Criminal Sessions yesterday when he was asked why sentence should not be passed on him.

“You have been convicted of a very clever and very cruel fraud. I will take into consideration, in passing sentence, that you have not been convicted for any offence for nine years,” remarked Mr. Justice E. H. Williams as he imposed sentence of two years’ imprisonment with hard labour.

Guimaraes was charged with having conspired with Yeung Kwong and Leung Tim to cheat Tong Yuk-cho of $13,200 between January 14 and January 23, and obtaining the money by falsely pretending that he was in a position to sell to Tong six machine-guns and 8,000 rounds of ammunition.

Refugee Who Was Accused
Of StealingMANSLAUGHTER
TRIAL

Found. Guilty by a jury on a charge of manslaughter, two shop foks, Wong Pi and Chan Ping-yu, were each sentenced to two months' hard labour by the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday.

Mr. J. Reynolds, Crown Counsel, prosecuted, assisted by Det.-Sgt. MacPherson, while Mr. Percy Chen, instructed by B. C. Hobbs, was for the defence.

The jury comprised Messrs. E. M. G. Hanlon (foreman), Fok Wah-hoi, Fung Shiu-tsol, W. Lay, K. A. Morlier, J. S. Mulla and F. G. Fird.

Mr. Reynolds said that the deceased, Chan Tai, was a refugee in Hongkong.

On July 21, shortly after 7 a.m., Chan borrowed five cents and left his house. The next thing heard of him was in the Wing Hing grocery shop where he was accused of stealing money.

FOUND COINS

The second accused searched Chan, found several coins, and struck him two or three blows on the chest. First accused also struck Chan blows on his body. Deceased first returned one blow, but afterwards did not resist, though he was further assaulted.

Later Wong dragged him to the front of the shop where he was kicked by Wong.

Chan, in a bending position, holding his stomach, managed to walk a short distance. He collapsed and died almost immediately.

Post-mortem examination showed that the deceased died of rupture of the spleen and internal haemorrhage.

Giving evidence, first accused said he saw the accused stealing money from a basket. He called the attention of the second accused, who approached Chan and gave him two smacks on his face and told him to go. Second accused then turned to serve customers and the deceased struck him a blow in the back and the accused returned several blows. First accused further stated that he himself did not strike the deceased.

Evidence was also given by the second accused.

WARM GARMENTS
CAMPAIGNJournalists To Give
Day's Salary To Fund

CHUNGKING, Aug. 23 (Central)—Enthusiastic response has been made by various cities to the appeal of the National Association for the Warm Garments Campaign in Chungking for funds for winter clothing for the Chinese troops and refugees.

The Mobilisation Committee in Chengtu yesterday called a meeting of representatives of the different organisations to discuss the matter. It was decided to revive the Szechwan branch of the National Association for the Warm Garments Campaign formed last year as a central organ to push the campaign in Szechwan. The amount of funds to be raised in the province has been fixed at $700,000 and the campaign is expected to be completed before the end of October.

PUBLICITY WEEK
Kansu, Ninghsia and Chinghai have decided to raise $450,000 in aid of the campaign. Steps are being considered to launch the drive.

Kiangsi press circles have sent out a circular telegram suggesting that all newspapermen contribute their one day's salaries on September 1, Journalists' Day, in aid of the campaign and hold a Warm Garments Publicity Week September 2-3.

WAR EFFORTS IN THE COLONIES

AS THE FIRST YEAR of the hostilities in the west draws to its close, reports are being made available to the public of the response which Britain has received from every corner of her vast Empire to assist her to secure her war aims. It would not, of course, be fair to make comparisons on the value and extent of these war efforts or to draw invidious distinctions. Each part of the British Commonwealth of Nations has been striving to energise its resources and to place at the disposal of the mother country those essentials which will keep her war machinery in motion and which will add to the strength of her economic position to face long and protracted hostilities. The help that has thus been reaching Britain has been substantial, even if some parts of the Empire have not been able to keep pace with the efforts made by those better situated and more generously blessed with nature's gifts. In Malaya, for instance, it has been revealed that tin mines are working twenty-four hours a day and that rubber estates are being worked at high pressure to keep supplies of both these commodities, which are essential for war purposes, flowing into Britain. Nearly every colonial possession, capable of doing so, has likewise mobilised its entire natural resources for the common cause.

THE GREATEST essential to Britain's war effort, however, is money. With daily rising war costs averaging £10,000,000 for every twenty-four hours of the hostilities, the financial strain is most severe for any belligerent and the question uppermost in Britain's war programme is to keep the war chest replenished. It is here that the individual effort becomes apparent. Patriotic response is naturally expected from the wealthy classes, in the first instance. Most of them have given generously and are still giving with an open hand. Others have given sparingly and a few, perhaps, grudgingly. If, therefore, Britain has to rely solely on these individual efforts, financial assistance would be only spasmodic and would soon exhaust such sources. It thus becomes necessary for the Government to find other means to secure this very necessary financial assistance. This means a resort to what must inevitably cause hardship to the wage-earning classes. Taxation is always unwelcome, for with it comes concomitant difficulties—increased costs of living, lower purchasing power of the population, reduction of trade, restricted spending and the need for the strictest stringency. The result might well be expected to create chaos and dissatisfaction, but the loyalty of the British Empire and its people to the mother country has never failed in the past and, however severe the hardships may be which people living under the British flag will be called upon to face in the future, the response will be as

ENTERS COAST
NEAR HAIPHONG

The maximum temperature yesterday was 79 and the minimum 77.

The Royal Observatory reported at 5 p.m. that pressure is highest over Manchuria and the Pacific eastward of Japan.

The China Sea typhoon has probably entered the coast near Haiphong, the eastern typhoon is moving northward across Naha.

DAMAGE REPORTED
A motor yacht, belonging to Mr. L. R. Brown, of the China Construction Company, drifted from its mooring at Deep Water Bay. Nobody was on board at the time and it has not yet been located. Several matchboxes belonging to the China Construction Company at Shouson Hill were damaged. A wall at the rear of No. 25 Stone Nullah Lane, collapsed partially due to the recent storm and rain.

The north part of a bridge in Tai Po Road, near the 10-mile stone, was wrecked and is dangerous to traffic. As a result of the heavy down-pour on Aug. 22 a total of 1.44 inches of rain was recorded bringing the year's record to 42.67 inches above normal.

INCREASE OF TUBERCULOSIS
IN SINGAPORE

Deaths from tuberculosis in Singapore have been increasing in the last two weeks, according to official statistics, reports the Malaya Tribune on Aug. 17.

For the week ending Aug. 3, the number of fatal cases from this disease was 43, while last week the number was 35.

Chicken-pox cases were also on the increase, there being 13 cases reported, none of which fortunately, was fatal. In the previous weeks, there were only ten cases reported.

Last week, there were 23 cases of pneumonia, two more than the week previous.

The death rate was, 19.75 per mille per year.

spontaneous as it has always been.

THE DEMAND for financial assistance must continue and those in charge of the administrations in the Colonies have constantly to explore new avenues for raising money. Taxation, after all must have its limits and to overburden the people would be injudicious. The raising of war loans has been accepted in more than one Colony as a means to bring in more money. Its disadvantages are that it offers the wealthy classes a safe means of adding to their wealth by a form of lucrative investment. Financial experts have been offering various other suggestions, which they feel would bring in substantial revenue and at the same time cause less hardship. Foremost among these suggestions is the organisation of a state lottery. In Malaya, one section of the press has been a strenuous champion of this form of raising money for the war. It certainly is distinctly feasible and it is difficult to understand why such a proposal should find opposition. There have been complaints that Hongkong is lagging far behind other parts of the Empire in its war efforts, Hongkong has no natural resources which it can mobilise for assisting the mother country. Its war efforts must, therefore, be strictly confined to the financial side. So far only individual efforts have been responsible for accomplishing the little that has been done in the Colony, apart from War taxes. A State or Government lottery would immediately have the effect of substantially increasing the pecuniary assistance which Hongkong can render to Britain in her hour of need and should receive the earnest consideration of the Government in seeking means to enhance the Colony's contributions to the war effort.

FAILURE OF GERMAN
RAIDS ON BRITAIN:
COMMAND SHAKE-UP

IN THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN, THE NAZI LUFTWAFFE FACED ITS FIRST REALLY TOUGH TEST. German pilots learned at Dunkirk, where R.A.F. definitely established local control, that they and their machines were individually inferior to the British. But the British had not enough planes to maintain superiority all over Britain if the Germans came over in thousands.

A map of Luftwaffe's preliminary "educational" bombings of Britain, shows some of the targets which Germany considered most important.

The bombed towns are those mentioned in German communiqués (the British do not name exact sites). In some cases the Germans may not have hit where they thought, but other places have also been bombed, by accident, by bombers in a hurry to unload and start for home. In these bombings, according to British admission, 336 civilians were killed and 476 seriously wounded, less than a normal month's toll in traffic accidents.

LIGHTLY MOLESTED

The pattern shows that Britain's vast industrial Midlands section, from Birmingham and Coventry north to Leeds and York, had been molested only lightly. Her west-coast ports north of the Bristol Channel were untouched. Only a few of her aircraft factories had been attacked.

R.A.F.'s widely scattered bases had received attention, but nothing like concentrated attack. Chief targets were naval bases, commercial ports, oil dumps on the southwest, south and east coasts, and munitions plants in the north (Middlesbrough, Billingham, Greenock). London was bombed only around its fringes, suggesting the efficacy of its balloon barrage. Remarkable was the Germans' failure to attack Sheffield, where many of Britain's biggest guns are forged.

GERMAN STRATEGY

German strategy would be to draw defenders away from Britain's airfields by intolerable attacks on other targets, if need be on heavily populated areas. A threatened destruction of London, such as the destruction of Rotterdam (in which 54 German planes killed 30,000 people and reduced the centre of the city to rubble in 77 minutes, according to an official Dutch announcement), might force the R.A.F. to come to the metropolis' defense. But if British airfields were left undefended, their shops, hangars and planes on the ground would be destroyed and in a short time the R.A.F. would cease to be a factor in the fighting.

Big difference between Rotterdam on May 14, and all large British cities was that the latter were heavily ringed with well-manned, well-munitioned anti-aircraft batteries. On the other hand, Germany was prepared to send bombers in flights of 540 instead of 54, if needed, to destroy London, Liverpool, Hull, Manchester, Birmingham, Bristol, etc., simultaneously, at whatever expenditure of her own lives might be necessary to annihilate British lives. Prospects were that the 10,000 or 15,000 attackers Germany was prepared to send and spend might well knock out Britain's 7,000 (at most, all types) defense planes sooner or later, and probably sooner.

COMMAND SHAKE-UP

Recognition of what Britain faced overhead was expressed recently in one more shake-up of her defense command. Brave but inflexible General Sir Edmund Ironside, 60, was eased upstairs with the rank of Field-Marshal, to make way for Lieut. General Sir Alan Francis ("Wizard") Brooke, 57, as Commander-in-Chief of the Home Forces. General Viscount Gort, Commander-in-Chief of the B.E.F., was assigned to a new high post since his return from France, was made only Inspecting General of Forces for Training, while to replace Sir Alan as field commander in the south of England, Lieut. General Claude John Eyre Auchinleck, 58, was named. (The latter was the hard-bitten infantryman who helped wrestle Narvik from Germany's Lieut. General Eduard ("Bul") Dietl, only to see it yielded due to pressure in the Lowlands.)

In World War, General Brooke invented a barrage map for directing artillery fire which came into wide use. He is called Britain's best-informed tank and anti-tank man, "Wizard" because his knowledge of gunnery is so well-rounded.

Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Francis ("Wizard") Brooke, who has replaced Gen. Sir Edmund Ironside in Britain's Home defence command.

ed he is also an anti-aircraft ace. Spectacled, dark, pinched, with a close-clipped mustache, he looks more like a "City" broker than the soldier-sportsman that he is (in the Army since 1902). His fox-hunting Irish father was Master of the Pau pack (supposed descendants of hounds with which Wellington's officers hunted in Spain). Sir Alan, who was born and raised in France, is one of the Empire's finest wing shots and anglers, and he once rode down and speared a wolf from horseback.

NAZI LAIRS BLASTED

While Sir Alan prepared to spear German sky wolves, the R.A.F. continued its lambasting of their lairs across the Channel. British pilots stalked Germans home to spot their fields for future visits by British bombers. Wherever they saw barges—at Rotterdam, Boulogne, in the River Lys at Armentieres—they poured down bombs. They blasted out a section of the important, Dortmund-Ems Canal, to which much traffic has been diverted since the railroad was wrecked.

They smashed at Copenhagen's docks and shipyards. They played havoc at a favorite oil spot, the many-railled freight yards and junction of Hamm. At Bremen they smashed the big Focke-Wulf aircraft plant, where a new twin-tailed fighter with "swallowed" engine is being turned out, said to fly 400 m.p.h.

Each side was "softening up" the other and a report from far-off Turkey carried by travellers from Germany indicated the kind of damage both sides were already suffering. According to the accounts, the Rhineland populace was thoroughly terrorized by R.A.F.'s incessant raiding, especially at Essen, home of the vast Krupp plants.

PRESIDENT OF ROTARY
INTERNATIONALCOMING VISIT TO MANILA

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Aug. 14.—Armando de Arruda Pereira, president of Rotary International, announced today he plans to visit Manila late in October to present Dr. Carlos P. Romulo, Manila publisher, the decoration conferred on him by the Cuban government during the recent convention of Rotary International in Havana.

The international head of Rotary expects to leave Brazil with Mrs. Pereira in September, traveling by way of South Africa and India to the Orient.

FIRST CITY

"Manila is the first city in the Far East I want to visit, not only because its Latin culture binds me to the Philippines but I want to congratulate Philippine Rotarians for their many achievements in Rotary, prominent among which is their having given Rotary International a leader of the type of Dr. Romulo, with whom I served on the same board and whose ability Rotary leaders have learned to respect and admire," Mr. Pereira said.

Mr. Pereira was elected new president of Rotary International at the Havana convention after Romulo ordered his name withdrawn in favor of the Brazilian. The forthcoming trip to the Orient will be the new president's first, since he assumed office.

Analyzing the Rotary situation, Pereira said today Rotary clubs are increasing despite the war. During his forthcoming trip, he expects to campaign to all more membership classifications in existing clubs to enhance Rotary's influence for peace and friendship in the world.

NEWSETTES

Knocked down by car No. 4033, driven by Mr. E. Paul, in Hennessy Road last night, a Chinese male sustained injuries and was sent to the Queen Mary Hospital.

The gymkhana arranged by the Equine Sports Club, which was to take place at a later date when it was postponed on Aug. 11 owing to unfavourable weather, has now been cancelled.

The forthcoming marriage was announced at the Supreme Court yesterday of Mr. Henry Ma Sing, merchant, residing at No. 7, Triangle Street, and Miss Yu Sau-ying, residing at No. 248, Queen's Road East.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has ordered an appropriation of $50,000 to relieve the refugees in Hengyang, important town on the Canton-Hankow Railway in Hunan, which has been subjected to repeated bombings by Japanese planes.

Mr. Ben Cowles, member of the Fellowship Mission—formed under the joint auspices of the American Youth Congress, the Intercollegiate Christian Council, the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church and the International Council of the Y.M.C.A., arrived in Lanchow from Chungking by plane yesterday.

Under present conditions there is no possibility of completely eradicating malaria, which has broken out seriously in a number of provinces, declared Dr. P. Z. King, Director of the National Health Administration, in an interview with the Central News Agency in Chungking. Both the populace and the Chinese soldiers have been seriously affected by malaria, which has thus caused indirect economic losses.

A set of regulations has been issued by the Chungking Ministry of Finance to govern domestic remittances between the coastal ports and the "Free China" areas. The regulations provide that remittances from coastal ports to the "Free China" cities will be free from charges, the report states. Remittances from the "Free China" areas to coastal ports will be charged according to the specified rates promulgated by the Ministry.

CAJOLERY FROM DUCE HAS FAILED COMPLETELY TO DETER EGYPT

LONDON, Aug. 23 (REUTER)—THE EGYPTIAN GOVERNMENT'S DECISION TO FIGHT if Italian forces cross the frontier is warmly commended by the Press.

The DAILY TELEGRAPH says that the cajolery and threats from Il Duce have completely failed to deter Egypt from carrying out to the letter of the spirit of her treaty alliance with Britain.

DIRECT HITS ON ITALIAN SUBMARINES

CAIRO, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—An R.A.F. communiqué states that British aircraft made a low-flying attack on enemy warships anchored in the Bomba roadstead in Libya, obtaining direct hits and destroying two submarines, one destroyer and a submarine depot ship.

All our aircraft returned safely. R.A.F. bombers also attacked the landing ground at Derna, also motorised transport concentrations, a repair depot and shipping. Many bombs exploded among the aircraft and motor vehicles, causing considerable damage. We suffered no casualties.

SERIES OF RAIDS

In Italian Somaliland, the Mogadishu aerodrome was subjected to a series of raids by bombers of the South African Air Force and direct hits were scored on buildings, hangars, wireless station and barracks. Three enemy aircraft are believed to have been badly damaged.

All our aircraft returned safely.

SPAIN PRIMATE DEAD

MADRID, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—The death occurred here today of Cardinal Goma, Primate of Spain.

NO FEAR OF COLONY MILK SHORTAGE: ONE YEAR'S SUPPLY

SPECIAL TO HONGKONG DAILY PRESS

Strange as it may seem, as a result of supplies being cut off from the main milk-producing countries of Europe by the war, Hongkong finds itself stocked with more than a year's supply of tinned milk—six times as much stock as we have ever had at any time in the past.

EFFECT ON H.K. IMPORT TRADE

of cash payments, the local importer was also handicapped by several other factors.

For instance, both freight and insurance rates have been increased and in many cases the prices of various commodities themselves have greatly appreciated. Added to this is the depreciation of the Hongkong dollar in terms of the American monetary unit from about U.S.$30 to about U.S.$22 per H.K.$100 within the past ten months.

One merchant pointed out that while the freight per bag of flour from America to Hongkong nine months ago was only 38 cents, the current rate is about H.K.$1.50 per bag—an increase of nearly 400 per cent!

This informant anticipated that the imports to the Colony from America during the second half of the current year would probably be about 50 per cent. below the usual annual amount.

An interesting factor about Hongkong's trade with America, he pointed out, "is that the Colony has a very favourable trade balance, the annual exports to the States being about H.K.$141,000,000; three fifths of this comprises silver, and about a quarter of it butter and fats."

He explained, however, that these commodities were imported to the Colony from China and re-exported to America. "Other Chinese products which are exported in large quantities to America," he added, "are preserved foods, Chinese medicine and textiles."

An American trader of many years standing in the Colony, said: "Few people here seem to realise what a far-reaching effect the American Neutrality Act has had on the trade of Hongkong. Both Britain and China are belligerent nations, and there it is!"

This amazing situation was revealed to a representative of the Hongkong Daily Press yesterday by the head of a large milk importing firm in the Colony who estimated the present stocks of tinned milk in the Colony at over 100,000,000 cases—more than sufficient to meet a whole year's needs!

Pointing out that the bulk of the imports of this line now came from America, the local business magnate explained how large consignments which normally would not have found their way to Hongkong, came to be landed here.

PRINCIPAL SUPPLIERS

"The Colony's supplies of tinned milk in pre-war days came almost entirely from Europe," he said, "Denmark, Holland, Belgium and Switzerland being the principal suppliers. When these countries were over-run by Germany, large quantities of their shipping was seized in British ports—particularly Hongkong."

"It so happened," he continued, "that most of these ships were laden with large cargoes of tinned milk, and as China is about Asia's largest consumer of sweetened milk, much of these consignments were diverted here."

"Now we find ourselves with more than a year's supply on our hands," he interlarded his fingers with satisfaction. "Whereas, formerly, we seldom, if ever, carried more than two months' stocks."

It was further revealed that when the present needs are exhausted fresh supplies will be readily obtainable from America where most of the locally used brands have branch factories.

"So we need have no fear of a milk shortage in Hongkong," he concluded with a smile.

MOSCOW, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—Sir Stafford Cripps yesterday saw M. Mikoyan, Foreign Trade Commissioner. The talk lasted 45 minutes.

SHANGHAI RESIDENTS ENLIST

SHANGHAI, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—About 200 Shanghai residents who signed up for military service with British fighting units will depart from the city on Monday. It was learned today.

Local enlistments will leave together with units of the Seaforth Highlanders who are expected to board a transport tomorrow afternoon.

JAPAN WAITS FOR REPLY FROM NAZIS

TOKYO, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—"Germany promised a reply, but it has not arrived yet."

This was the reply of a Foreign Office spokesman today when he was asked whether Japan had received any reply from Germany to her request on Aug. 20 for the guarantee of the safe passage of Japanese rescue boats, which are to pick up Japanese evacuees from England and other danger zones in Europe.

ONLY A SHADOW REGIME

The current "battle of words" between the Japanese army organ and the Wang Ching-wei mouthpiece, Central China Daily News, in Shanghai constitutes another proof that Japan has never considered the Nanking set-up as anything more than a shadow regime, according to the Kung Sheung Evening News.

Quoting the Central China Daily News editorial attack on Japan's efforts to settle the Shanghai defence dispute without consulting Nanking, the Kung Sheung Evening News editorial says that Japan has already discarded Wang Ching-wei as something no longer useful.

On the other hand, says the editorial, the counter-attack on the Central China Daily News by the Japanese-controlled Sin Shun "denotes an open hint to the Nanking regime that if it does not play ball Japan's way there is every chance of Japan dropping Wang altogether."

Meanwhile, the Japanese press attack is interpreted as bringing greater pressure to bear on the Nanking regime to sign the negotiated treaty according to Japan's dictates.

Civil War Will Follow Grant Of India Home Rule, Sassoon Asserts

ALTHOUGH GREAT BRITAIN HAS BEEN READY AND WILLING TO GRANT HOME RULE TO INDIA FOR MORE THAN TEN YEARS, grant of this form of government to India at present may not be advisable owing to dissension among the various elements in the subject country and due to developments both in Europe and in Asia, said Sir Victor Sassoon, British businessman who is considered one of the wealthiest men in the Far East.

Sir Victor made this comment in Manila on the rejection by the Congress Working Committee of the offer of self-rule for India, which had been made by the British Government, on condition that India contributes more fully to Britain's war efforts.

Sir Victor Sassoon arrived in Manila on Thursday on his way from China to India where he has large interests and made the above statement in the course of an interview with the Manila Bulletin published yesterday.

He expressed the belief that India is not ready for home rule at present.

He explained that this is due to the fact that three principal elements in India, the Hindus, the Mohammedans and the princes, cannot agree on what guarantees to give each other once India obtains home rule. He agrees with other competent observers on Indian affairs that once home rule is granted there will be civil war.

Sir Victor refused to speak on conditions in Shanghai.

DOOMED TO DISAPPOINTMENT

Sir Victor also disclosed that when Lord Reading first arrived in India as Viceroy, this official hoped that home rule would be granted before the end of his term. He was doomed to disappointment, Sir Victor declared, as safeguards which the majority offered the minorities were deemed by the latter as insufficient while guarantees asked by the minorities were considered excessive by the majority. The situation has not changed much since then, according to him.

While the Hindus are undoubtedly in the majority in India, the Mohammedans cannot be disregarded, Sir Victor declared.

Aside from these elements, the Indian princes do not want to owe allegiance to anybody, not even the Indian Congress, with the exception of the King Emperor. Dissension and certain civil war will be immediate fruit of grant of home rule at present, he concluded.

DEPARTURES

The following were recent departures from the Colony—Mr. W. D. Chattulani, Mr. S. Kunhiro, Mrs. H. Koyama, Miss M. Koyama, Mrs. C. Morisona, Miss T. Morisona, Mstr. Tsuyoshi Morisona, Mrs. S. Yosida, Miss T. Yosida, Mstr. S. Yosida and Mr. Yamakawa.

New Typhoon 450 Miles Off Manila

A new Pacific typhoon which caused the hoisting of typhoon signal No. 1 throughout the archipelago on Thursday was reported by the weather bureau as being located about 450 miles to the east of Balintang Channel, remaining almost stationary.

The typhoon which crossed northern Luzon early this week has entered the mainland of Asia, according to the Manila Bulletin of yesterday.

The new storm was first observed by the weather bureau three days ago as a depression near the Caroline Islands. Since then it has developed into a typhoon and had moved westward toward the Philippines.

JAPAN INTENDS TO INJECT FRESHNESS INTO DIPLOMATIC SERVICE

TOKYO, Aug. 23 (Reuter)—"It is a matter of routine but it is intended to inject freshness into the diplomatic service."

This was the comment made by the spokesman of the Foreign Office, Mr. Yakichiro Suma, at a Press conference today regarding the reshuffle of the diplomatic personnel, ordered by the Foreign Minister, Mr. Matsuoaka, yesterday and which involves the recall of five Ambassadors, 19 Ministers, five Counsellors and 11 Consuls-General serving abroad.

The recall of these 40 diplomatic representatives has nothing to do with their abilities, merits or demerits and still less Japan's relations with the countries to which they have been accredited, he declared.

Arrangements have already been completed for dealing with the diplomatic relations of Japan with those countries from which Japan's diplomatic representatives have been recalled and, therefore, the spokesman said that no difficulty or hindrance will be experienced in dealings between Japan and those countries.

MAY NOT BE FILLED
Vacancies created will be filled in one or two months, though some may be filled immediately. The spokesman intimated that some will not be filled but will have charge d'affaires appointed or will have Ministers accredited to the other countries concurrently appointed to take charge of the vacancies, though such an arrangement depends on the future development of the world situation in the next couple of months.

Asked whether the vacancy at Washington will be filled, the spokesman replied that such vacancy will be filled immediately though it might take some time to obtain "agreement" on a new Ambassador.

When asked whether any country had already been approached regarding the appointment of a new Japanese Ambassador or Minister, the spokesman declined to make a reply, pointing out that it was against diplomatic usage to do so.

NO PARTICULAR REASON
The spokesman reiterated that there was no particular reason on the part of the Foreign Minister in ordering the recall of the 40 diplomats, but on the contrary, the recall has been necessitated by higher administrative requirements.

The same reply was given by the spokesman to the question of whether this shake-up means a prelude to Japan's diplomatic reorientation.

Turning to the question of Gen. Kolsa, former Minister of Overseas Affairs, the spokesman said that the situation will be clarified within a week during which time Gen. Kolsa is likely to define his attitude towards the post of Chairman of the mission to the Netherlands East Indies.

CREDIT ON DIPLOMACY
The Times says this quick result reflects credit on the diplomacy of both countries. With a real grievance, of 27 years standing, removed, internal stability of the Balkans should be strengthened.

It adds that, provided the arrangement is not upset from outside and, so far as is known in London, Bulgaria, having received satisfaction of this long-standing grievance, has no wish to make any precipitant move in any other direction.

Death Leap By Patient In Bed No. 13

SUICIDE VERDICT AT INQUEST

A verdict of suicide was returned at an inquest held yesterday at the Central Magistracy into the death of Lam Fat, 37, street coolie, who died at the Queen Mary Hospital on July 21.

Mr. H. G. Sheldon sat as Coroner assisted by the following jury: Mr. Francis Xavier Lee (foreman), Mr. Tsang Yat-sun and Mr. Jorge Maria Ozoilo dos Remedios. The deceased was admitted to hospital in the middle of June and a minor operation was performed on July 20. On the same evening deceased was in bed 13 in a ward on the sixth floor of the hospital. He got up and went out to the verandah from where he jumped down.

Dr. Fang Ching-wen said that in his opinion death was due to shock and haemorrhage.

In answer to a question by the jury Dr. Fang said he did not think there was any mental effect on deceased as the result of the operation in the morning.

Dr. Fang added that he visited deceased twice that day and assured him that the operation was successful. The patient appeared cheerful.

Insp. F. D. B. Tuckett represented the police.

CATHOLIC NEWS & NOTES

WAR CHAPLAINS RELATE STORIES OF COURAGE IN DUNKIRK EVACUATION

AMONG THE STORIES of the British Expeditionary Force and of Dunkirk that are gradually being told there are many related by the chaplains of fine examples of trust in God as well as of natural courage on the part of the men who faced the dangers. One story was told of non-Catholics joining in an Act of Contrition when all thought that they were going to death. It was told by a Glasgow priest on his return from France.

"At one time," he said, "we thought we had been cut off. It was so bad that the officer's simple message was: 'We're going to die, but before we do we are going to fight.' He then beckoned me forward and I told the Catholics that I would give them a general Absolution. I had begun to lead the Act of Contrition when I observed that the non-Catholics were bare-headed and that they were following me in firm, clear voices."

Later, the chaplain added, they all broke through to safety. He said the non-Catholics followed him too when he buried a little baby carried round by his mother for two days dead. She was demented and the priest had been asked to do what he could. "God gave her fortitude," he said, "and we commended the soul of her little one to the All-Merciful Father."

Many chaplains were listed as missing after the evacuation. Among them was Dom Gervase Hobson-Matthews, O.S.B., of Downside, who declined to go on board the last ship leaving Dunkirk and was left in the stricken town.

His fate is unknown. He was given a pass to leave in the last boat, but he said he could not go as he felt his duty was with the dying. He gave a long letter and a hastily-written postcard to a soldier to take back to England.

RAIN OF BOMBS

In the letter he told of his journey through the rain of bombs and of several narrow escapes. He had to take cover so often, he said, he felt that he must have lain in every ditch in Flanders. He had slept in woods and on the top of ambulances. He saved the Blessed Sacrament from a burning church in which the tabernacle had been blown open, but he had not been able to say Mass for several days before the evacuation.

The first chaplain to be decorated in the war was Fr. Thomas Duggan, an Irish priest, from Cork, who was awarded the M.C. He had been a chaplain in the last war and gave up a professorship in the Cork seminary to be chaplain immediately on the outbreak of the present war.

CONVERSION M. P.

Captain John H.F. McEwen, M. P. for Berwick Haddington, and former Parliamentary Under-Secretary to the Scottish Office, has been received into the Catholic Church by Fr. Rowland, S.J., at Farm St., London. Capt. McEwen's wife is a daughter of Sir Francis Lindley, former Ambassador to Tokyo. Like her mother the

SINGAPORE MAY HAVE YOUTHS' CLUB

Many clubs in Singapore are aware of the danger that youth in this Colony is liable to, and it has even been suggested by the police to the various clubs that a Boys' Club should be formed in Singapore where youth can gather and be provided with games and certain other recreations, in order to take them away from the possibility of falling under bad influences.

"I hope that this club will soon be formed," remarked Mr. Richard Lim, when pleading for leniency for a 17-year-old boy, Tan Thai Hiau, a Chinese student, who was charged with assisting in the management of an unlawful society.

Mr. Lim formerly practised at the Bar in Hongkong.

ANOTHER CHINA BOY DECORATED

In a recent list of awards appearing in a supplement of the London Gazette the name of another China-born Briton appears as a recipient of the Distinguished Service Cross. He is Lieut. J. G. Pearson, brother of Mrs. T. C. G. Pearson, of Shanghai. The award was for "gallantry and courage in operations off the Norwegian coast" while serving in H.M.S. Auckland.

John House was born in Welbald during the last war while his father, Capt. A. E. House, R.N. (Retired), was serving as Resident Senior Naval Officer at that port. Receiving his early education in China, he subsequently went home to the Imperial Service College and passed into the Royal Navy.

Chemical Industries Of Canada: Increase In Value Of Output

CHEMICAL PRODUCTION IN CANADA SET UP A NEW RECORD LAST YEAR. The increase in value of output over 1938 was 7.7 per cent, while it was 5.7 per cent, above the previous record established in 1937. It was also nearly fourteen per cent, higher than the value of production in 1929. Substantial increases over 1938 were reported in eleven of the thirteen industries in which the group is classified.

Canada's foreign trade in chemicals was also at a record level last year, imports showing a gain of 24.1 per cent, and exports an increase of 24.4 per cent, over 1938. The gross value of production in the chemical and allied industries of Canada in 1939, according to a preliminary report issued by the Dominion Statistician, totalled $157,407,000 as compared with $146,139,000 in 1938. The previous peak was $148,973,000 in 1937, while in 1929 the value amounted to $138,545,000.

As between 1938 and 1939, the number of plants in operation rose from 790 to 797 and the aggregate capital employed from $161,267,000 to $170,873,000; the number of employees from 21,806 to 22,238 and the payroll from $29,571,000 to $31,289,000; while the cost of materials advanced from $80,714,000 to $84,318,000.

VALUE OF OUTPUT

The largest contribution to the output value of the chemical group last year was provided by medicinal and pharmaceuticals with paints, pigments and varnishes and second and acids, alkalies and salts third. The value of output in medicinal and pharmaceuticals increased from $24,536,000 in 1938 to $26,839,000 in 1939; paints, pigments and varnishes from $24,318,000 to $25,437,000; and acids, alkalies and salts from $20,477,000 to $23,059,000.

The two industries showing decrease were polishes and dressings from $3,096,000 to $2,988,000 and toilet preparations from $8,851,000 to $6,622,000.

All other industries reported gains: hardwood distillation from $682,000 to $738,000; adhesives from $1,904,000 to $2,057,000; inks from $3,181,000 to $3,438,000; coal tar distillation from $2,895,000 to $3,463,000; compressed gases from $3,754,000 to $4,010,000; fertilisers from $12,841,000 to $13,178,000; soaps and washing compounds from $13,242,000 to $20,093,000; and miscellaneous chemical products from $23,362,000 to $25,507,000.

Ontario led the provinces of Canada with 57 per cent of the total production in 1939, and its output rose from $82,196,000 in 1938 to $89,228,000 last year. Quebec came second with 30 per cent, and increased from $44,676,000 to $47,591,000; and British Columbia third with seven per cent, rising from $9,586,000 to $10,451,000.

The remaining six per cent is divided amongst the other six provinces; and all areas reported gains except Prince Edward Island.

REPORTED GAINS

The reported gains per cent, is divided amongst the other six provinces; and all areas reported gains except Prince Edward Island.

RESEEDING

Any bare and thin areas in the lawn should be reseeded with suitable grasses in the early spring and again in the early fall, during the last two weeks of August. It is important that all possible sources of weed seeds be removed. The most common sources of weed infestation are adjacent weedy areas from which weed seeds are carried by wind, water and animals, dressings of fresh or partly rotted manure or other weed infested materials and cheap mixtures in which there are weed seeds.

The obvious method of preventing contamination of the lawn is to remove the sources of weed seeds by killing weeds in adjacent areas, as well as those which may already be present in the lawn, by making sure that no materials containing weed seeds are applied to the lawn and by sowing only the best Grade No. 1 seed.

CONTROL LAWN WEEDS

The first step in controlling lawn weeds is to follow a maintenance program which will result in a dense, vigorous, healthy turf.

Important features of this programme include judicious fertilization, proper mowing, watering and timely reseeded. It is recommended by the Division of Forage Plants, Dominion Experimental Farms Service, states J. H. Boyce, that lawns receive two applications of a complete fertilizer each year, one as soon as possible in the spring and the other in the early fall, about September 1.

Fertilizers containing from 4 to 5 per cent of nitrogen, 8 to 12 per cent phosphoric acid, and 4 to 5 per cent potash are recommended for most situations. These fertilizers should be applied at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

OUT FREQUENTLY

The lawn should be cut frequently with a sharp mower. It is desirable that the grass be cut to a height of 1 1/2 to 2 inches. Mowing to lower heights encourages growth of certain types of weeds. Where it is available, artificial watering may be used to great advantage during the dry summer months.

The lawn should not receive water, however, until it shows definite signs of needing it and then the soil should be moistened thoroughly to a depth of at least four inches.

Frequent light waterings are undesirable since they encourage the growth of shallow-rooted weeds, and tend to restrict the roots of the desirable grasses to the upper layers of soil, thus reducing their feeding range and making the turf even more

North Borneo Chamber Of Commerce Annual General Meeting

The following are extracts from the minutes of proceedings at the Thirtieth annual general meeting of the North Borneo Chamber of Commerce held on Wednesday, Aug. 7, at 11 a.m.

The Report and Accounts as presented were duly adopted.

Committee.—The following gentlemen were elected to serve on the General Committee for the year 1940/41: The Honourable Mr. F. W. Pincock, Mr. H. C. Johnson, Mr. J. K. S. Malcolm, Mr. G. Mavor, Mr. A. E. Phillips, The Honourable Mr. R. J. Walker, Mr. W. A. S. Young, The Honourable Mr. Kwan Yuen Hin, Mr. Lau Bui Ching.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

The Chairman said: Since we last met, long continued tension has culminated in War, and the British Empire opposes Germany and Italy in defence of freedom and liberty. We have faith in the success of our arms, and afterwards reaching a just understanding between the nations implementing man's desire to live in amity without military domination.

The European War—as well as the Sino-Japan hostilities—have tended to render trading more difficult. Emergency War time Regulations, having for their object the governance of the "economic front," have had to be complied with but, so far as North Borneo is concerned, I feel the small measure of inconvenience has not amounted to any real hindrance.

Both import and export business has received a stimulus from war conditions.

As a result of this, and the application of exchange restrictions, there is a good deal of local money probably not fully employed—and it is no more than prudent to keep such funds to safeguard the future.

Almost assuredly the problem of restriction and quotas, in regard to both imports and exports, will come to the fore in the not distant future. This will be done deliberately to maximise the war effort, but it will mean a contraction of trade and, of course, less prosperous times.

RUBBER

The State's prosperity is closely associated with the welfare of the Rubber Industry. This was in good fettle throughout the period under review—the industry continuing to enjoy the benefits of what is known as Restriction but could perhaps be more aptly designated "well ordered production." The quota at the beginning of July, 1939, was 55 per cent and the commodity price in Singapore, around 28-cents per lb. On July 1, this year, the third quarter's quota was 80 per cent of assessment and the commodity price for R.S.S. 37 cents per lb. (The amount of Rubber exported from the State during 1939 was 26,575,427 lbs., representing an increase of 4,769,372 lbs. as compared with 1938).

LABOUR

The greater measure of prosperity which was being felt by rubber and timber, the two largest local industries, resulted in (1) increased output and (2) the withdrawal for increased husbandry. As a result, labour was barely sufficient for industrial requirements.

This resulted in incidents of higher advances and also increased standard rates of pay, and the Chamber's energies were devoted to regularise the position—especially the control of advances. These efforts seem to have met with some measure of success.

SHIPPING

There was an increase of approximately 9 per cent in the total entries of Merchant Shipping, namely 356,998 tons in 1939 against 324,132 tons in 1938. The principal flag distribution was:

British 41.90 per cent; Japanese 36.91 per cent; Panama 7.28 per cent; Dutch 5.18 per cent.

Regular steamer communication between North Borneo and Singapore, and with Hongkong has been maintained.

Freights have increased—

To United Kingdom Ports 70 per cent on pre-war rates.

To United States Atlantic Ports 40 per cent on pre-war rates.

To Singapore 20 per cent on pre-war rates.

To Hongkong 40 per cent on pre-war rates.

Local Coastal Ports 20 per cent on pre-war rates, owing to increased running costs due to War conditions.

GENERAL

War overshadows all industrial activity and none can foretell how long the struggle may last. The existing comparative prosperity is unlikely to endure and we shall do well to take advantage of the present to make provision for the future. By this I mean the setting aside of reserves against any bleakness the future may hold in store.

Already commodities, especially luxury and non-essential commodities, are becoming more difficult to obtain. (This is as it should be, that our energies and our resources are directed into channels promoting the successful prosecution of the war. Further demands will be made upon us for help and assistance; demands that will necessitate sacrifice and hardship—but we shall, and must, endeavour to bear them cheerfully because we are imbued with the rightness of our cause.

WICKHAM STEED

On Thursday last, a number of big guns on the German side of the Channel had tried to bombard a convoy with little result, as none of the ships were hit or damaged. The German batteries had at once received a visit from the bombers of the Royal Air Force, but generally last week, there had been fewer enemy aircraft for the British airmen to bring down.

"Like a good many people," continued Mr. Steed, "I have been trying to get a measure of the position for the big attack on us. I think Herr Hitler must go on. He must try to knock us out in the next few weeks. Our airmen have been hitting him harder than he expected and he has begun to feel it. But, as yet, we know that he has only thrown a fraction of his air strength into the fighting.

ANOTHER EFFORT
"For reasons which I shall give later, I think he will make another effort to smash us before the days grow shorter and the nights grow longer.

"One of the reasons why I think this is that Herr Hitler has told his people and the world that he means to destroy Britain.

"In the meantime, Dr. Goebbels has turned the figures of Germany's air losses topsy-turvy, but what was intended for German home consumption really contained more modest accounts of the Battle of Britain.

"These accounts have been overheard outside Germany, so that the question now arises as to why Herr Hitler tells one thing to the Germans and another to the rest of the world.

"The answer is that the German people are still capable of some reasoning. Their aircraft factories and military centres are being bombed daily. The German people know it, so that it would not be of any use to tell them that the British air force has been paralysed. What they are told, therefore, is that Britain is going to be smashed, but that this smashing cannot be done at once."

TRY ELSEWHERE
Mr. Steed said that it had been suggested that Herr Hitler might switch off from his attack on Britain and try elsewhere in order to strike at the British Empire, probably in the Near or Middle East, where Mussolini might be expected to help him. Mussolini had already got Somaliland and Herr Hitler might see the advantage of starting an attack in that region.

"If Herr Hitler switches off from the Battle of Britain, however, everyone will conclude that he has got more than he bargained for and he will not like that.

"That, however, cannot do away with Herr Hitler's principal worry and that is the growing strength of the Royal Air Force. Herr Hitler probably knows that if Britain's air strength is not destroyed soon, not a single factory or military centre in Germany will be safe from destruction.

"We are now turning out at least as many machines as Germany is turning out. We may still be below Germany's air strength, but what is most important, is that Germany is being hit again and again with a persistency that Herr Hitler cannot hide from his people."

POLISH LADY'S STORY
Mr. Steed went on to describe what a Polish lady, now resident in Britain, had said to him after witnessing a fight between British and German planes over the south of London on Sunday last. This lady had seen 30 or 40 British fighters engage about 100 German planes, several of which had been shot down, while others had turned and fled.

In the course of the fighting, she had seen a British plane drop vertically and she caught her breath, thinking it was going to crash, but the pilot had flattened out and turning to Mr. Steed, the lady said: "I always thought that the British were very slow; now I know that they can be very quick."

Mr. Steed went on to say that one of the best tributes to Britain's airmen had been paid by Mr. Churchill, when he had declared: "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few."

U.S. UNDERSTANDING
Referring to Anglo-American understanding and the Prime Minister's remarks on the subject of

REQUIEM MASS FOR LATE
GOVERNOR OF MACAO

A SOLEMN REQUIEM MASS for the late Dr. Artur Tamagnini de Sousa Barbosa, former Governor of Macao, who passed away last month, was held in the Roman Catholic Cathedral yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. His Excellency Bishop H. Valtorta, assisted by Fathers Maestrini and Fung, conducted the Mass.

Many prominent members of the Hongkong community were present to pay their homage.

Among them were: Capt. H. A. de Barros Botelho, A.D.C. (representing H.E. the Officer Administering the Government), Major A. V. Petri (representing H.E. the G.O.C.), Lt.-Col. W. A. Elliott (representing Hon. Rear-Admiral A. M. Peters), Dr. Armando Silva Xavier (representing N.R.P. Goncalo Velho), Chev. F. P. de Vasconcelos Soares (acting Consul for Portugal), Mr. F. C. Fornes (representing Mr. A. E. Southard, Consul-General for U.S.A.), Mr. H. van der Straeten (Consul-General for Belgium), M. L.O.F. Reynaud (Consul-General for France), Mr. K. Okazaki (Consul-General for Japan) and Mrs. Okazaki, Hon. Mr. Leo d'Almada, Jr., Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Mr. Philip Tyau, Special Delegate of the Chinese Foreign Affairs Dept. for Kwangtung and Kwangsi, and Secretary, Dr. E. L. de Souza, Dr. T. W. Ware, Mr. J. H. Meltzer, Rev. Fr. V. Bernardini, Superior of Aberdeen Industrial School, Rev. Fr. J. Guarona, S.S., Director of St. Louis Industrial School, Members of the Committees of Club de Recreio, Club Lusitano, Associaçao Portuguesa do Socorro Mutuo, and Sisters and pupils of Italian Convent.

At the end of the service the Bishop delivered a funeral oration which concluded with solemn obsequies.

BISHOP'S EULOGY

The integrity of the late Dr. Barbosa and the high esteem in which he was held is summed up in the following passages of the Bishop's eulogy.

"He was a man who was dear, very dear indeed, to us all: a great and true friend, an exemplary and loyal Christian. He was also a great Governor, so much so that he was called three times to hold the high office of Governor of Macao, his first term being as far back as in 1918, a distinction which is perhaps unique and which speaks volumes for his ability as administrator.

"A perfect knowledge of the social and political problems of the oldest Colony in China, a great sympathetic understanding of the needs of the people or, rather, a real paternal love for his people, uncommon diplomatic tact united with a high grade of common sense, a personal honesty and a loyalty to duty that were unequalled, all these were qualities that always distinguished him, and which could not fail to make of him an ideal Governor beloved by all.

REMEMBERED FORMER

"He is now gone to his well deserved reward and he is no longer with us in this world. But his memory will live forever in our hearts and evoke in us all an ardent wish.

"Eternal rest give unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him."

The close collaboration between the two great English-speaking democracies, in connexion with the proposal to lease certain islands belonging to Britain to the United States, Mr. Steed said that Herr Hitler never could understand this sort of understanding between the two countries.

Herr Hitler might have been hoping that a little judicious propaganda from Dr. Goebbels would have prevented Britain and America from seeing eye to eye.

"Herr Hitler and Dr. Goebbels might have chuckled a few years ago when a book entitled 'England expects every American to do his Duty' became a best seller," said Mr. Steed. "Today the position is different and every man and every woman is doing his or her bit for the cause which will be of benefit not only to Britain but also to America."

"So while we are waiting for the renewal of Herr Hitler's attack, and watching what he is, trying to do in South-East Europe, we have no fears for the future.

"We may not yet have come to the end of the cataract of disasters, but every cataract runs into broader and calmer streams. We are now in sight of that stream. We know that the only salvation for the world lies in our victory in this gangster-made war."

WITHOUT A HOME
NAZI EXPATRIATE
SAILS TO NOWHERE

His American visiting permit expired, George Dibern, German expatriate, now without a country, sailed back into the sea recently. Dibern and a crew of three took the 32-foot ketch Te Rapunga away from the Oakland estuary with the morning tide, with Hawaii and the South-seas as their destination.

HOME WAS KETCH

For 10 years, since he left Germany torn with "strife, hate and uncertainty," Dibern's home has been the ketch, at the stern of which flies his own flag.

For 10 years he has touched at far ports, always in search of a haven, always, seemingly on an endless journey toward the land of nowhere.

When Dibern arrived here in October he had planned to make his home in Canada, but the rumble of cannon in Europe barred him from the dominion because of his German birth.

SEEKING PEACE

Now, once again, Dibern has weighed anchor, with the hope this time that he can find some land where peace can be had by everyone.

His crew includes Eileen Morris, 26, a New Zealand girl, who joined the ketch there more than a year ago, and two Alameda boys, Mervin Styles and Douglas Denton.

Miss Barbara Whittingham-Jones, daughter of the Rev. E. E. and Mrs. Whittingham-Jones, and a well-known figure in Liverpool public life, is engaged to Mr. Henry Rolf Oppenheim, of Iphig, F.M.S., and will be married in Singapore shortly. A former candidate for Parliament, Miss Whittingham-Jones has been an Assistant Section Officer in the W.A.A.F. since April, 1938 and expects to continue in public service in Malaya after her marriage.
